Cleveland Clinic Multispecialty Pathology Symposium

This pathology symposium will focus on practical discussions of commonly encountered problems in surgical pathology. The goal is to provide useful tips that the speakers utilize in their own practice at the microscope. We aim to address and discuss common problems and avoid an undue focus on esoterica.

In this course, renowned subspecialists who are highly sought after for their teaching skills will cover a broad spectrum of cases, including gastrointestinal pathology, breast pathology, genitourinary pathology, thoracic pathology and gynecologic pathology. Practicing pathologists, fellows, and residents who attend will maintain, develop, and increase their knowledge, competence, and professional performance, with the intent to improve diagnosis and positively impact patient care.

Who Should Attend?

Pathologists, Pathology Residents and Fellows

By Attending, You Will Be Able To:

- Review neuroendocrine neoplasia of the gastrointestinal tract and pancreas
- Accurately grade prostate cancer
- Review endometrial carcinoma, including old and new entities
- Discuss helpful immunohistochemical markers in thoracic pathology
- Distinguish between lobular breast carcinoma and its mimics
